

About Discngine

Discngine provides software and services for life sciences research organizations, assisting in discovering new molecules.

Founded in Paris in 2004 by Pfizer alumni, it now has a team of over 60 experts. R&D divisions in pharmaceutical, cosmetics, and agro-sciences industries trust Discngine for visual analytics, knowledge management, and decision-making software solutions.

With expertise in laboratory informatics, cheminformatics, bioinformatics, and scientific data management, Discngine offers a range of solutions, from custom development and software components to third-party integrations and SaaS platforms.